SCHOOL ZONE

JUAT A REMINDER TO MOTORISTS—school is back in session and morning and evening school zones go into effect---15 miles per hour in the Chitimacha Tribal School zone. Please be on alert for children on the streets and obey the posted speed limit signs.

DISASTER PLANNING

If catastrophe struck, would your family be ready? Taking simple steps today could save lives and prevent suffering later.

Plan Your Family's Response

Prevent panic and confusion by making sure everyone knows where to go and what to do in an emergency.

Stash Supplies

You can buy an emergency kit or assemble your own. Keep everything in protective containers, such as plastic boxes. If you evacuate, take the kit with you. Examples of supplies for your kit—water and food, enough to last three to seven days, choose things that don't need cooling or cooking, water and food for pets if they are traveling with you, batteries, first aid kit, flashlights, blankets and clothes, matches, eating gear such as non-electric can opener, utensils, paper plates and paper towels, hygiene items, backups such as extra chargers for cell phone, spare set of house and car keys, and extra eyeglasses, cash or traveler's checks, pens and paper, cleaning supplies, and a tool kit.

Brace For Hurricanes

Hurricanes cause catastrophic damage along coasts and several hundred miles inland. They also trigger deadly floods, tornadoes, landslides and torrential rains.

Before a storm threatens—Reinforce structures. Check your insurance policies and consider flood insurance. Inspect existing hurricane shutters, install new ones or buy supplies for boarding up windows and drill the holes ahead of time. Plan for shelter—in a house, identify a small interior room, closet or hallway on the lowest level where you can wait out a storm if you're not told to evacuate. Do not stay in a mobile home or high-rise during a hurricane.

If a storm may be heading your way—Stay informed and follow weather and news reports. Obey evacuation orders. Limit flying debris by moving toys, garbage cans, patio furniture and other yard items into your house, garage or shed. Be ready—fill your car's gas tank, fill the bathtub and large containers with water to use for cleaning and hygiene if you lose your water supply, turn the refrigerator and freezer to their coldest settings and keep the doors closed as much as possible, turn off propane tanks and just before the storm, circuit breakers. Turn off utilities if instructed to do so.

During the storm—Avoid using utilities—rely on battery-powered flashlights and lanterns and don't use the telephone except in emergencies. Stay in your shelter—close all interior doors and brace external doors, keep curtains and blinds closed, stay in your interior room away from windows and glass doors, and lie under a sturdy object, if necessary.

Don't be fooled by the calm—The worst part of the storm happens after the eye passes and the winds blow from the opposite direction. Be alert for tornadoes during and after hurricanes.

Evacuation

A disaster could force anyone to leave home so you should be ready to act.

Keep a map in the car and your gas tank full. If you don't have a car, decide now how you would get out.

Bring your pets and your emergency supply kit.

Take routes specified by officials as shortcuts may be impassable.

Depending on the situation, you might have days or only minutes to escape so you must do what time allows.

If told to, turn off water, electricity and gas. (Check with you gas company before turning your gas back on or have a professional do it.)

Carry drivers licenses, emergency contact numbers, insurance cards, bank account information and other documents in a waterproof container.

Make a reservation at a hotel or call friends or relatives you can stay with.

Call or e-mail your out-of-state family contact to say where you are going.

Leave a note at home saying when you left and where you were headed.

Depart early to avoid traffic jams.

Take Inventory

If the worst happens and your home is destroyed it will help to have an inventory of everything that you own.

Videotape your belongings, working room by room, while describing what they are, where you got them and their value. You can also take digital photos and store them on a CD.

It's okay if you've lost model numbers and receipts. The goal is to identify as many items as possible as best you can.

Make updates by taking stock at least every five years, and add any major purchases right away.

Protect the results and store your inventory in a secure location away from home, preferably a safe-deposit box. It is also suggested to keep the following documents in your safe-deposit box—all insurance policies, proof of residence (deed or lease), birth and marriage certificates, passports, social security cards, copy of drivers licenses, bank and credit card information, wills, deeds and copies of recent tax returns, and stocks and bonds.

CHITIMACHA TRIBAL SCHOOL

Eagle Pride...Eagle Spirit!

Start of School – 2007

CTS NEWS

Bright faces, crisp new uniforms, and eager minds were ready for the 2007 – 2008 school year to begin! These were the images seen on the first day of school at CTS. The school year for CTS began on Monday the 13th of August. Students, parents, and staff were very impressed with our new flooring that was completed during the summer. It looks GREAT! With the new flooring project, Greg Waguespack and Joshua Mora had to work around a tight schedule in order to get our school computers updated, but nothing is impossible for these two guys. A HUGE “THANK YOU” goes out to Greg and Joshua, our technology idols. To add to the wonderful transformations of our school, we have two new teachers also.

Mrs. Janeen Robicheaux and Ms. Angelle Vice will be working with our 6th, 7th and 8th grade students this year. Mrs. Janeen completed her Bachelors of Science at University of Southwestern Louisiana and has been teaching for 30 years. She is the wife of Gary Robicheaux and has been married for 24 years. They have 2 children, one boy - 16 years old and one girl – 19 years old. Mrs. Janeen was born and raised near here, the Franklin – Centerville area. She will be teaching reading and language arts this school year. Ms. Angelle completed her Bachelors of Arts and Science at the University of Louisiana at Lafayette. She has been teaching for 9 years. She has 2 boys; one 7 years old and the other 3 years old. Ms. Angelle is from the Jeanerette area. She will be teaching math and science this school year. A big, warm welcome goes out to both of them!

The staff couldn't have asked for a smoother start for the very first day. We would like to thank Chief Lonnie Martin for coming out to welcome the students and staff. We look forward to seeing him during the school year. As the first week comes to a close teachers are ready to put their summer work into action. This summer teachers worked to transform their lessons from the previous year as well as worked to create bulletin boards, door decorations, and images for our school theme this year, which is "CTS Soars to Success". Our school theme will focus on Native American traditions, values, and culture. Another focus this year will be to continue incorporating "Good Character" concepts throughout our campus.

LIBRARY NEWS BULLETIN

CTS library is moving forward with improved literacy tools and technology! Renaissance Place Enterprise provides access to more than 100,000 quizzes on books from publishers around the world. Students can choose books from school, public libraries, or home, provided there is a quiz available for the chosen book. Students may review the quiz bank to verify that they may take an AR quiz on a particular book. Another outstanding feature about Enterprise is that the Accelerated Vocabulary software is built in with Accelerated Reading.

Not only does Enterprise provide Accelerated Reader quizzes, but it offers Recorded Voice quizzes where quizzes are given aloud to beginning readers. Literacy Skill quizzes will also be made available; these quizzes will help measure students' proficiency in 24 literacy skills most often assessed on high-stakes standardized tests. Each literacy skill quiz includes an electronic teacher's guide with a brief summary, main character list, vocabulary words, and questions that prompt discussion.

Renaissance Learning products have been successful for Chitimacha Tribal School. The chance for advancement can improve even more with a broader availability of learning resources.

OPEN HOUSE

Open House will take place on September 12th at 6:00 P.M. Parents are invited to attend the 2007-2008 CTS

Open House to visit your child's classroom and meet your child's teacher. Parents are asked to meet in the school gym for a brief introductory meeting, then they will be able to parade around campus and get a concise overview of their child's studies this school year.

See you there!

PRAYER AROUND THE FLAG CEREMONY

Our flag pole prayer ceremony will take place on Tuesday, September 11th at 7:45 A.M.

The entire community is invited to join students and staff.

A NOTE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

I would like to begin by welcoming students, staff, and parents and wishing everyone a successful school year. The first day of school was one of the best ever; the staff and students did an awesome job. I know this year will be filled with accomplishments for everyone here at CTS. I thank the parents for having their children ready and prepared for the new school year. Your support is a huge, important part of your child's success.

The Title VII after school/homework center will be offered again this year. Further information will be sent to you in the near future.

In Loving Memory of Oscar Joseph Hurst
July 27, 1953 - July 9, 2007

God saw you getting tired, and a cure was not to be. So He put His arms around you and whispered "Come To ME". With tearful eyes we watched you, and saw you pass away. Although we loved you dearly, we could not make you stay. A golden heart stopped beating, hard working hands at rest. God broke our hearts to prove to us, He only takes the best.

Sadly missed by family and friends.

CHITIMACHA OUTREACH AND FELLOWSHIP

We invite you to join us for prayer, worship, and fellowship. We are not a denomination, and we welcome everyone. We will not ask you for your money, so relax, we just want an hour or so of your time.

We meet every Thursday at 7:00 P.M. at our new location of 2688 Chitimacha Trail (formally Bourgeois Grocery). If you have any questions please feel free to call me. Contact numbers: 923-6941 or 578-1249.
